

Royal Launches New Building Products Distribution Center in Quebec

Woodbridge, Ontario (May 12, 2011) – Royal Building Products today announced the grand opening of a new distribution center in Terrebonne, Quebec. The distribution center – Produits de Bâtiment Résidentiel located at 2085, boulevard des Entreprises – will cater to the residential market, providing premium low-maintenance building products for new construction and remodelling projects.

“This is an optimal location, since approximately 25 percent of our current customer base in the Montreal region is in the Terrebonne area. Just as significant, the Terrebonne area has the highest projected new construction rate for the next five years in the Montreal region,” said Adrien Pilon, general manager of Distribution at Royal.

The Terrebonne branch is 30-percent larger than the former Royal distribution center in Anjou, allowing the company to increase its selection of siding, trim and accessories, mouldings, decking and windows. The expanded space also will enable the branch to carry Versetta Stone®, Solid CoRe Siding® and other innovative products from selected suppliers.

“Royal is focused on helping our customers grow by providing innovative products and offering the kind of service that makes it easy to do business with us,” Pilon said. “Opening a distribution branch closer to where much of tomorrow’s construction will be taking place is one way that Royal is making it more convenient to do business with us.”

Produits de Bâtiment Résidentiel distributes across the province of Quebec from its three distribution centers strategically located in key building markets: Quebec City, Sherbrooke and Terrebonne. The company plans to open an additional distribution center during the summer to serve the south shore of the Montreal region.
